OCH also provided supervisory education programs for training future nurses and other allied health professionals in an effort to increase the supply of health care professionals nationwide. Assisting with the preparation of future nurses and other allied health professionals at both entry and advanced levels of care education is critical to establishing a workforce of qualified health care providers. During the year, OCH invested 1,720 hours in training 206 undergraduate health professionals. Total unreimbursed cost of providing these educational programs is $73,677. With nine outpatient clinics throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex, OCH uses its profits to improve the health of Dallas and surrounding communities through in kind and financial donations, patient care, education, research, and community service. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012 these services were provided at a cost of $64,441.
