New Study Sheds Light on Nonrespiratory Complications of Influenza

Published in JAMA Network Open, the study's findings suggest that during the influenza season, practitioners should consider influenza in their differential diagnosis for patients who present to the hospital with less frequently recognized manifestations and initiate early antiviral treatment for patients with suspected or confirmed infection.

Flu Dashboard

Flu Dashboard Evaluation

REs can use the Dashboard as a tool to help providers with flu pre-book and to encourage vaccination throughout the season. The Immunization Unit evaluated the first season of the Flu Dashboard (2018-2019).
