

Notice: Continue Vaccine Reminders During COVID-19

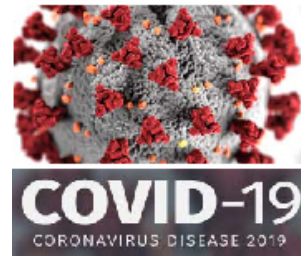

Vaccine-preventable diseases are still a threat to Texans.
Click Here to Learn More

Confused by Catch-Up Vaccine Schedules? Check Out CDC's Job Aids

CDC has created a helpful guide for providers to get their pediatric and adolescent patients up-to-date on their vaccines.

Learn the latest.

Hours of Operation Guide Now Available on the EVI Help Tab

Please review your office hours so that vaccines are shipped when staff is available to receive the shipments.

Events

MAY	Hepatitis Awareness Month
------------	---------------------------

MAY 3-9	National Hurricane Awareness Week
----------------	-----------------------------------

MAY 10-16	Women's Health Week
------------------	---------------------

MAY 19	Hepatitis Testing Day
---------------	-----------------------

JUN 25	2020 Virtual Perinatal Hepatitis B Summit
---------------	---

School Validation Surveys Due

Spreadsheets with priority schools were emailed mid-April. If you did not receive the email or the spreadsheet, please email imm.epi@dshs.texas.gov.

Vaccine Choice Opening May 11

Beginning Monday, May 11th, providers may update their vaccine choice(s) within the Electronic Vaccine Inventory (EVI) system. In EVI, the "Update Choice" tab will become available 10 am on May 11, 2020, and close at 3 pm on May 22, 2020.

The next opportunity for providers to update their vaccine choice(s) will be August 2020.

2020 Virtual Perinatal Hepatitis B Summit

June 25, 2020

Register today!

Are You Ready for Hurricane Season?

National Hurricane Awareness Week is May 3-May 9. Get prepared before Hurricane Season starts on June 1 by visiting the National Weather Service's National Hurricane Preparedness page.

See the Life-Saving Impact of Vaccines in 90 Seconds

During this challenging time, it's important to be reminded about the life-saving results of immunizations.

Flu Vaccine Season Ending

May 25, 2020, is the last day to place an influenza vaccine order for the current 2019-2020 flu season. Flu vaccines will not be available until the fall of 2020.