

Subject: Join DSHS for the 2023 Flu Summit on Wednesday, November 8

The Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) is hosting the inaugural Influenza (Flu) Summit on Wednesday, November 8, from 1:00 – 3:30 p.m. Speakers include DSHS staff and Synovia Moss, Project Manager from Good Health Women’s Immunization Networks (Good Health W.I.N.s) for the National Council of Negro Women, Inc.

This summit will provide an opportunity for various stakeholders to learn about the flu and flu prevention strategies by:

- Examining flu vaccination coverage rates across Texas
- Monitoring surveillance trends
- Receiving updates from the Influenza program
- Learning about how providers can prepare for the next flu season
